Vets And Auxiliary Face Unanimous Elections; May Come Here 'Until Victory'

In sessions marked by harmonious action, the United Spanish War Veterans and their Auxiliary have nominated members for all offices of the USWV and the Auxiliary branch without opposition and moved today toward unanimous elections in the closing sessions of the 40th annual convocation of the veterans of '98 and their ladies.

The veterans on Monday afternoon nominated Oscar J. Sybert, Butler real estate and insurance man, who started on his path toward the commandship at Gettysburg in 1942, for the office of department commander. For the last year he served as senior vice commander under Dr. Charles L. Shaffer, of Somerset, who will retire this afternoon at the end of his one-year term.

Mr. Sybert, who is adjutant of the Butler camp and secretary of the Northwest council, served in Puerto Rico as a private in Company D of the 16th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. In 1942, he was elected as junior vice commander.

Other Nominations
Junior Vice Commander Charles Curry, Philadelphia, was nominated without opposition for the senior vice commandship while Adjutant John D. Martz of Greensboro was the only man in the race for junior vice command. Martz, a school teacher for 47 years, is a retired superintendent of schools at Dornmont, Pa. He has been adjutant of the Pennsylvania Department for two terms.

Allen Lentz, Philadelphia, is the sole candidate for department inspector after the withdrawal of John A. Zimmerman, Waynesboro R. 4, a member of Steffy camp of Gettysburg. Zimmerman was nominated but his name was withdrawn at his own request.

Martin M. Knuth, of Scranton, was nominated for re-election as department chaplain.

The formal election was postponed from this morning until this afternoon by the press of other business and veterans were predicting a speedy election by acclamation after the suspension of rules with unanimous consent.

Other matters of major importance set for this afternoon are the report of the resolutions committee and the selection of the convention city for 1945.

Favor Return Here
A growing movement among the veterans calls for designation of Gettysburg as the official state USWV convention city for the duration of the war.

Oscar Sybert, nominated for the commandship, is one of the men backing that plan. "Gettysburg is accessible and we always have been well and courteously treated here. We'd all be glad to come back next year—and for as long as the travel restrictions are in force," he declared.

This morning's session at the court house was given over to the reading of committee reports and the presentation of visiting officials from other departments and representatives of the commander-in-chief. The visitors included Mike Riley, past department commander of New York, who brought greetings from the national commander, Superintendent Jerry Allen, of the Scotland school, spoke briefly from the floor just before the noon recess.

Auxiliary Nominates
Chief of Staff Joseph Dillon of Philadelphia, is scheduled to conduct the installation of veterans' officers this afternoon at the court house at the request of the incoming commander.

Mr. Sybert also told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times today that he will appoint John H. Jackson, of Butler, as his judge advocate; Harley McGehee, Butler, as department adjutant, and B. M. Perrine, Grove City, as department quartermaster. He also said the department office will be established in Butler.

This morning the members of the Auxiliary of the Pennsylvania USWV department nominated officers at their session in the St. James Lutheran chapel. All of the candidates are unopposed.

The list of nominees follows: Department president, Jennie Black, Altoona, advanced from senior vice president; senior vice president, Louise Keiper, Philadelphia; junior vice president, Florence Orange, Philadelphia, the retiring chaplain; chaplain, Cora Mawhinney, Franklin; patriotic instructor, Sara Halpenny, Philadelphia; historian, Marion Balzer, Philadelphia; conductress, Florence Fritz, Pottstown; assistant, Blodwyn Tipton, Gettysburg.

Large Truck Upsets Near York Springs

Damage totaling approximately $500 was done Monday evening at 9:45 o'clock when a truck-trailer skidded and overturned on the York Springs-Hanover road three miles south of York Springs.

Hollister M. Newton, Homerville, Ohio, driver of the truck, told investigating state police he was driving south on the road when he attempted to pass a coal truck traveling in the same direction. An oncoming car caused Newton to put on his brakes and, according to the driver, the trailer skidded locked. The truck and trailer skidded about 175 feet before overturning with its load of cough syrup.

No one was injured and no charges will be filed. The accident partially blocked the highway and one-way traffic was necessary until about 2 o'clock this morning.

Minister And Priest Ask Full Support Of Fifth Bond Campaign; Women Get Good Start

A Lutheran clergyman and a Catholic priest appealed to Adams countyans to purchase war bonds during the Fifth Bond Drive to supply the essentials required by Allied forces to win a victorious peace.

Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, and Very Rev. John F. O'Donnell, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Conewago chapel, were the two speakers at a bond rally in center square Monday evening, following a parade which officially opened the Fifth War Bond campaign in Adams county.

After reciting the horrors of war and the tragedies that befall the fighting men Rev. Gresh said:

No Time For Pacifism
"And what are we going to do for them? What support are we going to give them? Right here let me say that while men are dying for us, this is no time to do anything or say anything that might give aid and comfort to the enemy. It is no time to complain or grumble. It is no time to magnify the differences between capital and labor. It's no time to incite discord or disunity. It is no time for pacifism. It is a time for all of us to be good Americans, to present to the world a united front."

"We must support the armed forces. They need our prayers, our moral support, our material help. We must make sure that everything the Army, Navy, Air Corps and Marines need is available to them. Let it never be said again: 'Too little, too late.'"

"During the present drive to raise $16,000,000,000 we are assigned the easiest task of the war effort. We are merely called upon to invest in the future of America. Let us not fail our boys."

Need All Support

Before introducing Father O'Donnell Mr. Thomas told the audience that Adams county is called upon to sell $2,797,000 worth of war bonds during the campaign which closes July 8. He said it was the largest financial undertaking in the history of the county and to attain the goal every individual will have to help or the county will fail to reach its quota.

Rev. Fr. O'Donnell pictured the suffering of those who fight the actual battles. He said:

"We can visualize with little effort our own boys aching, bleeding and dying. We can see them bravely and courageously facing the enemy in this awful carnage. We can see them gasping their last breath. We know that they struggle with courage and hope and spirit in (Please Turn to Page 7)

(District Chairman are urged to telephone their war bond sales daily to the headquarters' booth, Hotel Gettysburg. Telephone 674.)

The women's division of the County War Finance Committee got off to a flying start on the first day of the Fifth War Bond drive, Monday, when reports from two booths in Gettysburg and from the Littlestown area revealed sales totaling more than $12,000, it was announced today.

At the booths in the Hotel Gettysburg and the First National Bank sales totaled $6,070. Face value of the bonds.

From Littlestown came the report that sales there on Monday totaled $6,181.25, sales value, on the first day of the drive.

2 On Cradle Roll
Two names were placed on the Victory Cradle Roll. They are Nancy Carroll Russell, Gettysburg, and John Rothermel, 2, of Camp Hill. The last named youngster was honored by his grandfather, John U. Shroyer, State Secretary of Highways. Mr. Shroyer is attending the USWV convention and purchased the bond for his grandson.

On the Roll of Honor League, seven Adams countyans are listed as follows:

Bertam L. Larkin, by Mrs. Anne S. Larkin.

Lieut. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., and Lieut. Donald M. Swopa, by Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Jr.

A/S William S. Stock and Major C. Fremont Hall, by Miss Mary Starr Stock.

Bond For Baby
Pfc. Robert S. Leifer and Lieutenant Robert C. Livesay by Mrs. Guile W. Leifer.

To honor a person in service women must buy or sell at least ten bonds for each individual honored.

Up to noon today there had not been any report of a baby born in the county on Monday, June 12, which would make it eligible to receive a $25 war bond. However, several district chairmen had not reported at headquarters as yet and it is possible that a county babe had been born out of the county on that day.

"G-I" BALLOT SURVEY STARTS

Approximately 500 members of the Adams county Civilian Defense organization will begin ringing doorbells Wednesday when they start the biggest job ever assigned the county CD workers. The task is the registration of all men and women in the county who are now in the armed forces or serving with affiliated organizations so that they may be sent ballots for November's elections.

The men who will conduct the survey will visit every home in the county within the next few days to ask everywhere the question: "Are any members of this household in service?" and to fill out questionnaires to be turned over to the county commissioners if the answer is in the affirmative.

Ask Cooperation
On page four in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times is the form that the workers will fill out with the information required to permit the men and women in the armed forces, merchant marine or similar services to vote.

The information obtained by the canvassers will be turned over within the next few days to the local committee chairmen who in turn will forward the cards to the county CD set-up which will turn them over to the county election board. After that the election board will decide which men may vote, and prepare to send out ballots to the men registered.

Members of the CD asked today that countyans have at hand the information required on the cards so that the canvassers may complete their work in the time given.

COUPLE TO WED

A marriage license was issued today at the court house to Richard Elias Wolford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Wolford, New Oxford, and Vivian Rosella Bair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bair, Abington.

Restaurants, Hotels Will Get More Sugar

The Office of Price Administration today announced an increase in allotments of sugar to restaurants, hotels, lunchrooms, large boarding houses, schools and in-plant feeding facilities which do their own baking.

This increase will permit those institutions that do their own baking to produce an amount of bakery products for their patrons consistent with that produced by commercial bakers and sold to the general public. The increase is from 20 to 25 per cent of that part of sugar which restaurants and other institutional users use for baking only.

The increase is applicable to the current May-June allotment period and subsequent allotment periods.

SCHOOL BOARD AIDS CANNERS SEEKING LABOR

Acting to aid pea canneries in the county described as being "desperately" in need of workers, the Gettysburg school board at its June meeting Monday evening agreed unanimously to allow specified sections of the high school building basement to be used temporarily to house German prisoners of war who will work in the canneries.

This morning a change in arrangements was announced under which only U. S. Army troops assigned to guard prisoners would be quartered at the high school with all of the prisoners being housed at the state armory. This arrangement also would be temporary and would be terminated as soon as the camp along the Emmitsburg road is completed.

The action Monday evening was taken at the request of E. A. Crouse, manager of the local office of the United States Employment Service, who said the high school building will be vacated as soon as the camp can accommodate the men. He said he hoped the school building will not have to be used for more than a week.

To Get $25 Per Day

Today the written agreement between the canners' organization and the school district was being drawn and signed with the expectation that the school may be put in use by Wednesday as prisoners go to work on a 10-hour schedule in pea canneries.

The school board granted temporary use of the old gymnasium, adjoining halls and the boys' locker rooms in that section of the building and will furnish toilet facilities, light and hot water to the extent of the facilities available. The board fixed a price of $25 per day for the use of the building to cover costs.

Acted To Help Canners

The board stipulated that the building must be restored to the condition in which it was found upon the arrival of the new tenants. Cots and other equipment will be furnished by the Army and the prisoners will be fed at the state armory where prisoners engaged in (Please Turn to Page 4)

Nazis Torture, Murder Yanks

New York, June 13 (AP)—Stanley Richardson, NBC reporter from London, said in a broadcast from London last night that there is "indisputable evidence that the Germans tortured and murdered" American paratroopers during the early hours of the Normandy landings.

Richardson, who had just returned from headquarters of an American airborne division near Carentan, said in one instance the bodies of three American enlisted paratroopers, stripped to the waist, with their hands bound, were found in a heap beside the wall of a former German command post.

"There is every indication," said Richardson, "that these Americans were executed after they had been captured, in violation of the rules of war."

In a second case the body of a second lieutenant was found with his throat cut and a German Army knife beside him. Richardson said that according to the men of the command post who discovered the body, the officer "landed in a tree and was murdered as he hung helplessly there."

A third case concerned a major who was found in a village "dead of multiple stab wounds," Richardson declared.

Take Montebourg In Struggle For Peninsula's Port

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13 (AP)—The Allies in Normandy burst forward mightily on all fronts late today, with the Americans cracking Cherbourg's defenses by seizing four towns and driving advance patrols within 10 miles of the great port.

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13 (AP)—The U. S. Fourth Infantry Division cracked the German defenses guarding Cherbourg today, capturing Montebourg, and two other American forces plunged halfway across the top of Cherbourg peninsula in deepening threats to lop off the great port.

Montebourg, only 14 miles southeast of the great trans-Atlantic port, fell after bitter street fighting, breaking one of the strongpoints protecting the naval city.

To the southwest, an American spearhead slashing inland near Ste. Mere Eglise seized Pont Abbe, 11 miles from the east coast and 14 from the west coast of the peninsula. This represented a 3½ mile advance.

Still another column farther south battering onward from Carentan was roughly halfway across the peninsula at its narrowest, 20-mile neck.

Plan To Close Pincers

By Berlin account, the U. S. columns pounding across the peninsula were fighting toward airborne troops already landed on the western shores in a pincers move.

The American advance was matched by the British at the east flank of the 80-mile front, where Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces smashed forward 3½ miles and seized a village on the outskirts of powerfully-defended Caen.

Six U. S. divisions now have been identified as fighting with the powerful invasion armies—with perhaps 600,000 men engaged on both sides—and supreme headquarters reported progress all along the battlefield now lengthened to 80 miles.

Berlin declared Allied forces were driving on the central Normandy road hub of St. Lo. and placed Americans within seven miles of the town.

Penetrate Inland 18 Miles

A front dispatch said the U. S. Second Division has struck past Cerisy forest to the northeast of St. Lo, making the deepest inland penetration of 18 miles.

The Fourth Division was spearheading the attack below Cherbourg in the area previously entered by the 82nd and 101st American airborne.

The American First and 29th Divisions also are fighting in France.

Estimates by both sides said 600,000 or more men were fighting on the Normandy plains, and the German high command announced the death "in the foremost line" of Artillery General Mareks, commanding an Army corps on Cherbourg peninsula.

On the eastern flank, supreme headquarters said Tilly-Sur-Seulles, west of Caen, had changed hands several times. Berlin reported particularly heavy fighting in this sector, and said a wedge had been driven into Nazi lines east of the Orne river.

Germans Falling Back Rapidly

The second division men, bursting into the center of the sagging Nazi line, "still are pushing forward" past Cerisy forest, and captured a huge ammunition dump near the woodlands, a front dispatch said. The Germans were falling back so rapidly they did not even have time for demolitions and placing mines, it added.

Maintaining thunderous aerial support, several hundred Flying Fortresses hammered Nazi airfields in France today, and other planes hit battlefield positions. Rain lowered visibility in the English channel—the Allies' supply line—and the sea was choppy.

One Berlin broadcast said that the signal "for starting the obviously impending battle for Caen has not yet been given on either side," but that both the Allies and Germans were bringing up "special units." The town of 61,000 population is the eastern bastion of the Germans' Normandy line.

Supreme headquarters in its 15th communique said small Allied gains were registered in all but one sector, at Tilly-Sur-Seulles, where strong resistance continued. The Germans were said to have brought up armored reinforcements.

To Link Two Big Beachheads

American doughboys pushed on across the neck of the Cherbourg peninsula for some miles beyond newly-captured Carentan, possession of which, the communique said, "materially strengthens the link established between our two major beachheads."

The morning Allied bulletin made no mention of progress in the vicinity of Montebourg, but the German-controlled Paris radio said this important highway town, only 14 miles below the port of Cherbourg, is now in Allied hands. Americans previously were said to have clamped a pincers from two sides of the town.

Rommel was reported concentrating fresh troops around St. Lo, target of American forces driving southwestward from the Cerisy forest, fully occupied yesterday by dough-

The women's division of the County War Finance Committee got off to a flying start on the first day of the Fifth War Bond drive, Monday, when reports from two booths in Gettysburg and from the Littlestown area revealed sales totaling more than $12,000, it was announced today.

At the booths in the Hotel Gettysburg and the First National Bank sales totaled $6,070, face value of the bonds.

From Littlestown came the report that sales there on Monday totaled $6,181.25, sales value, on the first day of the drive.

2 On Cradle Roll

Two names were placed on the Victory Cradle Roll. They are Nancy Carroll Russell, Gettysburg, and John Rothermel, 2, of Camp Hill. The last named youngster was honored by his grandfather, John U. Shroyer, State Secretary of Highway. Mr. Shroyer is attending the USWV convention and purchased the bond for his grandson.

On the Roll of Honor League, seven Adams countians are listed as follows:

Bertram L. Larkin, by Mrs. Anne S. Larkin.

Lieut. Commander Murray B. Frazee, Jr., and Lieut. Donald M. Swope, by Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Jr.

Bond For Baby

Pfc. Robert S. Lefever and Lieutenant Robert G. Livesay by Mrs. Guile W. Lefever.

To honor a person in service women must buy or sell at least ten bonds for each individual honored.

Up to noon today there had not been any report of a baby born in the county on Monday, June 12, which would make it eligible to receive a $25 war bond. However, several district chairmen had not reported at headquarters as yet and it is possible that a county babe had been born out of the county on that day.

"G-I" BALLOT SURVEY STARTS

Approximately 500 members of the Adams county Civilian Defense organization will begin ringing doorbells Wednesday when they start the biggest job ever assigned the county CD workers. The task is the registration of all men and women in the county who are now in the armed forces or serving with affiliated organizations so that they may be sent ballots for November's elections.

The men who will conduct the survey will visit every home in the county within the next few days to ask everywhere the question: "Are any members of this household in service?" and to fill out questionnaires to be turned over to the county commissioners if the answer is in the affirmative.

Ask Cooperation

On page four in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times is the form that the workers will fill out with the information required to permit the men and women in the armed forces, merchant marine or similar services to vote.

The information obtained by the canvassers will be turned over within the next few days to the local committee chairmen who in turn will forward the cards to the county CD set-up which will turn them over to the county election board. After that the election board will decide which men may vote, and prepare to send out ballots to the men registered.

Members of the CD asked today that countians have at hand the information required on the cards so that the canvassers may complete their work in the time given.

COUPLE TO WED

A marriage license was issued today at the court house to Richard Elias Wolford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Wolford, New Oxford, and Vivian Rosella Bair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bair, Abbotstown.

Restaurants, Hotels Will Get More Sugar

The Office of Price Administration today announced an increase in allotments of sugar to restaurants, hotels, lunchrooms, large boarding houses, schools and in-plant feeding facilities which do their own baking.

This increase will permit those institutions that do their own baking to produce an amount of bakery products for their patrons consistent with that produced by commercial bakers and sold to the general public. The increase is from 20 to 25 per cent of that part of sugar which restaurants and other institutional users use for baking only.

The increase is applicable to the current May-June allotment period and subsequent allotment periods.

SCHOOL BOARD AIDS CANNERS SEEKING LABOR

Acting to aid pea canneries in the county described as being "desperately" in need of workers, the Gettysburg school board at its June meeting Monday evening agreed unanimously to allow specified sections of the high school building basement to be used temporarily to house German prisoners of war who will work in the canneries.

This morning a change in arrangements was announced under which only U. S. Army troops assigned to guard prisoners would be quartered at the high school with all of the prisoners being housed at the state armory. This arrangement also would be temporary and would be terminated as soon as the camp along the Emmitsburg road is completed.

The action Monday evening was taken at the request of E. A. Crouse, manager of the local office of the United States Employment Service, who said the high school building will be vacated as soon as the camp can accommodate the men. He said he hoped the school building will not have to be used for more than a week.

To Get $25 Per Day

Today the written agreement between the canners' organization and the school district was being drawn and signed with the expectation that the school may be put in use by Wednesday as prisoners go to work on a 10-hour schedule in pea canneries.

The school board granted temporary use of the old gymnasium, adjoining halls and the boys' locker rooms in that section of the building and will furnish toilet facilities, light and hot water to the extent of the facilities available. The board fixed a price of $25 per day for the use of the building to cover costs.

Acted To Help Canners

The board stipulated that the building must be restored to the condition in which it was found upon the arrival of the new tenants. Cots and other equipment will be furnished by the Army and the prisoners will be fed at the state armory where prisoners engaged in (Please Turn to Page 4)

Nazis Torture, Murder Yanks

New York, June 13 (AP)—Stanley Richardson, NBC reporter from London, said in a broadcast from London last night that there is "indisputable evidence that the Germans tortured and murdered" American paratroopers during the early hours of the Normandy landings.

Richardson, who had just returned from headquarters of an American airborne division near Carentan, said in one instance the bodies of three American enlisted paratroopers, stripped to the waist, with their hands bound, were found in a heap beside the wall of a former German command post.

"There is every indication," said Richardson, "that these Americans were executed after they had been captured, in violation of the rules of war."

In a second case the body of a second lieutenant was found with his throat cut and a German Army knife beside him. Richardson said that according to the men of the command post who discovered the body, the officer "landed in a tree and was murdered as he hung helplessly there."

A third case concerned a major who was found in a village "dead of multiple stab wounds," Richardson declared. (Please Turn to Page 7)

Take Montebourg In Struggle For Peninsula's Port

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13 (AP)—The Allies in Normandy burst forward mightily on all fronts late today, with the Americans cracking Cherbourg's defenses by seizing four towns and driving advance patrols within 10 miles of the great port.

By WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13 (AP)—The U. S. Fourth Infantry Division cracked the German defenses guarding Cherbourg today, capturing Montebourg, and two other American forces plunged halfway across the top of Cherbourg peninsula in deepening threats to lop off the great port.

Montebourg, only 14 miles southeast of the great trans-Atlantic port, fell after bitter street fighting, breaking one of the strongpoints protecting the naval city.

To the southwest, an American spearhead slashing inland near Ste. Mere Eglise seized Pont Abbe, 11 miles from the east coast and 14 from the west coast of the peninsula. This represented a 3½ mile advance.

Still another column farther south battering onward from Carentan was roughly halfway across the peninsula at its narrowest, 20-mile neck.

Plan To Close Pincers

By Berlin account, the U. S. columns pounding across the peninsula were fighting toward airborne troops already landed on the western shores in a pincers move.

The American advance was matched by the British at the east flank of the 80-mile front, where Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces smashed forward 3½ miles and seized a village on the outskirts of powerfully-defended Caen.

Six U. S. divisions now have been identified as fighting with the powerful invasion armies—with perhaps 600,000 men engaged on both sides—and supreme headquarters reported progress all along the battlefield now lengthened to 80 miles.

Berlin declared Allied forces were driving on the central Normandy road hub of St. Lo, and placed Americans within seven miles of the town.

Penetrate Inland 18 Miles

A front dispatch said the U. S. Second Division has struck past Cerisy forest to the northeast of St. Lo, making the deepest inland penetration of 18 miles.

The Fourth Division was spearheading the attack below Cherbourg in the area previously entered by the 82nd and 101st American airborne.

The American First and 29th Divisions also are fighting in France.

Estimates by both sides said 600,000 or more men were fighting on the Normandy plains, and the German high command announced the death "in the foremost line" of Artillery General Marcks, commanding an Army corps on Cherbourg peninsula.

On the eastern flank, supreme headquarters said Tilly-Sur-Seulles, west of Caen, had changed hands several times. Berlin reported particularly heavy fighting in this sector, and said a wedge had been driven into Nazi lines east of the Orne river.

Germans Falling Back Rapidly

The second division men, bursting into the center of the sagging Nazi line, "still are pushing forward" past Cerisy forest, and captured a huge ammunition dump near the woodlands, a front dispatch said. The Germans were falling back so rapidly they did not even have time for demolitions and placing mines, it added.

Maintaining thunderous aerial support, several hundred Flying Fortresses hammered Nazi airfields in France today, and other planes hit battlefield positions. Rain lowered visibility in the English channel—the Allies' supply line—and the sea was choppy.

One Berlin broadcast said that the signal "for starting the obviously impending battle for Caen has not yet been given on either side," but that both the Allies and Germans were bringing up "special units." The town of 61,000 population is the eastern bastion of the Germans' Normandy line.

Supreme headquarters in its 15th communique said small Allied gains were registered in all but one sector, at Tilly-Sur-Seulles, where strong resistance continued. The Germans were said to have brought up armored reinforcements.

To Link Two Big Beachheads

American doughboys pushed on across the neck of the Cherbourg peninsula for some miles beyond newly-captured Carentan, possession of which, the communique said, "materially strengthens the link established between our two major beachheads."

The morning Allied bulletin made no mention of progress in the vicinity of Montebourg, but the German-controlled Paris radio said this important highway town, only 14 miles below the port of Cherbourg, is now in Allied hands. Americans previously were said to have clamped a pincers on two sides of the town.

Rommel was reported concentrating fresh troops around St. Lo, target of American forces driving southwestward from the Cerisy forest, fully occupied yesterday by doughboys. (Please Turn to Page 7)

GOOD WEATHER FAVORS ALLIES IN FRENCH PUSH

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The burst of sunshine over Hitler's Atlantic wall and the English channel during the past 24 hours has given a fine lift to the Allied invasion, which came so close to disaster in its inception and had been terribly handicapped ever since because of the vagaries of a despicable weather-man.

The great Allied beachhead on the Cherbourg peninsula is so well established that even yesterday Allied headquarters was able to say the general situation was "better than satisfactory." (Like the note of reserve in that official thumb-nail summary. It expresses confidence but doesn't bubble.) We now have an eighty mile front with a maximum depth of some eighteen miles.

Allied Initiative

That strip of coast—won by so much gallantry and sacrifice and superb generalship—is of course still more shallow than we like. However, it's deep enough so that the Allied troops are increasingly able to take the initiative, despite the great advantage the Germans held at the outset in their powerful defenses. In short, we are getting ahead with the job, and if the weather-man will favor us, our Normandy victory garden will flourish.

One of the most important developments produced by the appearance of the sun was the really terrific bombing which the Allied air forces have been giving western Europe. Yesterday some 10,000 sorties were flown by American and British warplanes. They blasted bridges, communications, troop movements and what not. It was a field day.

Now the significance of this is that they were blocking the movement of German reinforcements and supplies to the Cherbourg peninsula. They also were disrupting the lines of approach to the potential invasion points at which the Allies may strike at any time. The German air force showed up in greater strength than at any time since the invasion—but it was a weak display.

Allied Air Power

This intensified Allied air attack emphasizes a vital point which we should keep in mind. The reason we are able to invade western Europe through Hitler's powerful defenses is because of two things:

The Allies have vast air superiority; they have vast sea superiority. Had the Hitlerites been able to challenge us heavily on these two cardinal points, there would have been a far different story. It might easily have had a bad ending for this greatest amphibious invasion attempt of history. Certainly there would have been a battle so destructive as to appal the world.

Hitler's lack of air power is his most dangerous immediate weakness, as is being well exemplified in the fighting on the peninsula. Not only has Nazi Field Marshal Rommel been handicapped in actual battle, but he has been unable to protect troop and supply movements to the peninsula, for despite the bad weather the Allied fleets have performed a wonderful service. The result is that Rommel has lost invaluable time in hitting the invasion forces when they were in their most dangerous position.

Can't Stop Allies

The German Luftwaffe in western Europe is reported to consist of some 1,750 fighter planes and maybe 500 bombers—a mere handful compared with the 11,000 warplanes which the Allies have announced they are using. Probably the Nazis are holding their depleted fleet for some crisis which they fear. To have flung it into the battle of Cherbourg would have meant its annihilation.

In any event, we now know that they can't challenge Allied superiority in the air and on sea and that means that can't halt the ultimate establishment of a second front, although they may have their local successes.

Boards To Sift Tire Applications

Re-emphasizing that "rescue" of passengers and motorists by tires are far from adequate to meet increasing demands due largely to a mismanagement on the part of the motorist. The U. S. C. Young, acting director of the War Relocation Authority, announced today that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been instructed to screen carefully all applications for these tires. It was pointed out by the OPA director that in this emergency it is not the original quota of passenger and motorist tires for the month of May was 6,429. During the month the district was fortunate in securing an additional 4,225 from the reserve supply, or a total of 10,654. As for June, the district quota shows an increase of approximately 20 percent or a total of 8,559 tires but this includes the reserve supply.

"It is apparent that we can expect less assistance from the reserve supply," Young declared, "and for that reason, boards have been re-mandated that they may issue new tire certificates only to the extent of their monthly quotas and because of this limitation, must give first call to meet the most essential driver."

Totes Luggage And Gives Tips To R. C.

Boy Scout William Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Snyder, Buford avenue, solved a Boy Scout problem today by turning over to the Adams county Red Cross 70 cents given him by delegates to the United Spanish War Veterans convention here.

Scout Snyder, on duty at the Hotel Gettysburg, carried baggage for the veterans and did other odd work for them. They insisted on giving him tips and Scout Snyder insisted that according to Scout regulations, a Scout cannot accept tips for good turns. When it became embarrassing and the veterans kept insisting he take the tips, the scout did so—then turned the money over to the Red Cross in order to keep within the scouting regulations.

The local Red Cross also received another gift today, 34 cents, from two enterprising merchants, Ralph Jr. and Mary Baker, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, Seminary avenue. The kiddies sold lemonade, supplies furnished by their mother and turned the proceeds over to the Red Cross for kit bags.

MEXICAN SAYS UNITED STATES "GREAT NATION"

"The United States is a great nation—one of the greatest on the face of the earth, and one of the things that makes it great is that in times when other nations would be filled with pride and arrogance, when its armies invade an enemy, the United States instead turned to humble prayer."

Eugenio de Anzorera, Secretary of the Mexican Embassy declared before the local Rotary club at its meeting Monday night that that fact—America's humbleness—and its willingness to respect others and their opinions and customs "is one of the greatest factors promising close collaboration between Mexico and the United States in the post-war world."

Close Collaboration
He added that the Mexicans' willingness to do their share in close collaboration with the other United Nations—and to further good will among the nations of the American continent—is best proven by the fact that on December 7, 1941, when Japan attacked the United States at Pearl Harbor, the Mexican government declared a state of emergency to exist and Mexican troops, led by General Cardenas, who worked in close conjunction with the U. S. troops' commander, General DeWitt, in California, moved into Lower California, thus effectively closing the back door to America in the face of the confident Japanese.

Mexicans, "in the United States' hour of greatest need for manpower, came, at the anxious request of the USA to help on the farms and railroads so that America's production of food might not be cut down and transportation might be given to the war necessary materials that jammed the nation's railroads," he added.

Language Difference
Unfortunately the difference of language has been one of the principal barriers preventing understanding between the Mexicans and the people of the United States, the speaker said.

"In Mexico all children are being taught English" and the Mexican secretary urged the teaching of Spanish in American schools. "The similarity of languages between Canada and the United States has been one of the principle reasons why those two nations have lived together so amicably," Senator de Anzorera asserted.

"Mexico has been steadily progressing towards democracy for the last century and has made great strides in pulling itself up by its bootstraps in the last two decades. What has divided the three great countries of North America, Canada, the United States and Mexico from understanding each other has been lack of knowledge on the part of the northern nations concerning the Mexican peoples. That lack of knowledge is now being overcome, with more and more interest being shown north of the Rio Grande in the Mexican situation," the speaker said.

President Frederick Tilberg presided at the meeting which was attended by 30 Rotarians and guests.

GOOD WEATHER FAVORS ALLIES IN FRENCH PUSH

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

The burst of sunshine over Hitler's Atlantic wall and the English channel during the past 24 hours has given a fine lift to the Allied invasion, which came so close to disaster in its inception and had been terribly handicapped ever since, because of the vagaries of a dyspeptic weather-man.

The great Allied beachhead on the Cherbourg peninsula is so well established that even yesterday Allied headquarters was able to say the general situation was "better than satisfactory." (I like the note of reserve in that official thumb-nail summary. It expresses confidence but doesn't burble.) We now have an eighty mile front with a maximum depth of some eighteen miles.

Allied Initiative

That strip of coast—won by so much gallantry and sacrifice and superb generalship—is of course still more shallow than we like. However, it's deep enough so that the Allied troops are increasingly able to take the initiative, despite the great advantage the Hitlerites held at the outset in their powerful defenses. In short, we are getting ahead with the job, and if the weather-man will favor us, our Normandy victory garden will flourish.

One of the most important developments produced by the appearance of the sun was the really terrific coming which the Allied air forces have been giving western Europe. Yesterday some 10,000 sorties were flown by American and British warplanes. They blasted bridges, communications, troop movements and what not. It was a field day.

Now the significance of this is that they were blocking the movement of German reinforcements and supplies to the Cherbourg peninsula. They also were disrupting the lines of approach to the potential invasion points at which the Allies may strike at any time. The German air force showed up in greater strength than at any time since the invasion—but it was a weak display.

Allied Air Power

This intensified Allied air attack emphasizes a vital point which we should keep in mind. The reason we are able to invade western Europe through Hitler's powerful defenses is because of two things:

The Allies have vast air superiority; they have vast sea superiority. Had the Hitlerites been able to challenge us heavily on these two cardinal points, there would have been a far different story. It might easily have had a bad ending for this greatest amphibious invasion attempt of history. Certainly there would have been a battle so destructive as to appal the world.

Hitler's lack of air power is his most dangerous immediate weakness, as is being well exemplified in the fighting on the peninsula. Not only has Nazi Field Marshal Rommel been handicapped in actual battle, but he has been unable to protect troop and supply movements to the peninsula, for despite the bad weather the Allied fleets have performed a wonderful service. The result is that Rommel has lost invaluable time in hitting the invasion forces when they were in their most dangerous position.

Can't Stop Allies

The German Luftwaffe in western Europe is reported to consist of some 1,750 fighter planes and maybe 500 bombers—a mere handful compared with the 11,000 warplanes which the Allies have announced they are using. Probably the Nazis are holding their depleted fleet for some crisis which they fear. To have flung it into the battle of Cherbourg would have meant its annihilation.

In any event, we now know that they can't challenge Allied superiority in the air and on sea, and that means they can't halt the ultimate establishment of a second front, although they may have their local successes.

Boards To Sift Tire Applications

Re-emphasizing that present quotas of passenger and motorcycle tires are far from adequate to meet increasing demands due largely to a misunderstanding on the part of the motoring public, Walter C. Young, acting director of the Harrisburg district Office of Price Administration announced today that War Price and Rationing boards have been instructed to screen carefully all applications for these tires. It was pointed out by the OPA director that in this 10-county district the original quota of passenger and motorcycle tires for the month of May was 6,489. During the month the district was fortunate in securing an additional 4,325 from the reserve supply, or a total of 10,814. As for June, the district quota shows an increase of approximately 30 percent or a total of 8,569 tires but this includes the reserve supply.

"It is apparent that we can expect less assistance from the reserve supply," Young declared, "and for that reason, boards have been reminded that they may issue new tire certificates only to the extent of their monthly quotas and because of this limitation, must give first call to meet the most essential drivers."

Totes Luggage And Gives Tips To R. C.

Boy Scout William Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Snyder, Buford avenue, solved a Boy Scout problem today by turning over to the Adams county Red Cross 70 cents given him by delegates to the United Spanish War Veterans convention here.

Scout Snyder, on duty at the Hotel Gettysburg, carried baggage for the veterans and did other odd work for them. They insisted on giving him tips and Scout Snyder insisted that according to Scout regulations, a Scout cannot accept tips for good turns. When it became embarrassing and the veterans kept insisting he take the tips, the scout did so—then turned the money over to the Red Cross in order to keep within the scouting regulations.

The local Red Cross also received another gift today, 34 cents, from two enterprising merchants, Ralph, Jr., and Mary Baker, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, Seminary avenue. The kiddies sold lemonade (supplies furnished by their mother) and turned the proceeds over to the Red Cross for kit bags.

MEXICAN SAYS UNITED STATES "GREAT NATION"

"The United States is a great nation—one of the greatest on the face of the earth, and one of the things that makes it great is that in times when other nations would be filled with pride and arrogance, when its armies invade an enemy shore—the United States instead turned to humble prayer."

Eugenio de Anzorena, Secretary of the Mexican Embassy declared before the local Rotary club at its meeting Monday night that that fact—America's humbleness—and its willingness to respect others and their opinions and customs "is one of the greatest factors promising close collaboration between Mexico and the United States in the post-war world."

Close Collaboration

He added that the Mexicans' willingness to do their share in close collaboration with the other United Nations—and to further good will among the nations of the American continent—"is best proven by the fact that on December 7, 1941, when Japan attacked the United States at Pearl Harbor, the Mexican government declared a state of emergency to exist and Mexican troops, led by General Cardenas, who worked in close conjunction with the U. S. troops' commander, General DeWitt, in California, moved into Lower California, thus effectively closing the back door to America in the face of the confident Japanese."

Mexicans, "in the United States' hour of greatest need for manpower, came, at the anxious request of the USA to help on the farms and railroads so that America's production of food might not be cut down and transportation might be given to the war necessary materials that jammed the nation's railroads," he added.

Language Difference

Unfortunately the difference of language has been one of the principal barriers preventing understanding between the Mexicans and the people of the United States, the speaker said.

"In Mexico all children are being taught English" and the Mexican secretary urged the teaching of Spanish in American schools. "The similarity of languages between Canada and the United States has been one of the principle reasons why those two nations have lived together so amicably," Senor de Anzorena asserted.

"Steady Progress"

"Mexico has been steadily progressing towards democracy for the last century and has made great strides in pulling itself up by its bootstraps in the last two decades. What has divided the three great countries of North America, Canada, the United States and Mexico from understanding each other has been lack of knowledge on the part of the northern nations concerning the Mexican peoples. That lack of knowledge is now being overcome, with more and more interest being shown north of the Rio Grande in the Mexican situation," the speaker said.

President Frederick Tilberg presided at the meeting which was attended by 30 Rotarians and guests.

American And British War Leaders Tour French Fronts

(By The Associated Press)
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 13 — Prime Minister Churchill, often called the war's foremost reporter, has seen for himself how the battle for Normandy is going and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme invasion commander, has toured American-held sectors of the battlefield with the top commanders of the United States armed forces.

Eisenhower's companions on his historic visit of inspection yesterday were Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Chief of Staff; Admiral Ernest King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Fleet; Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of American Army Air Forces; Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commander of American ground forces in France and Rear Admirals Alan G. Kirk and John Leslie Hall, commanders of American Naval task forces for the invasion.

"Dangerous War"
Churchill steamed to France in the Destroyer H. M. S. Kelvin, which used its guns en route to bombard a German position ashore. With him went Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, and Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the Supreme General staff.

During his visit ashore Churchill had a chance to see that this too, is "a very dangerous war," as he once said about the last one. He watched a dog fight in the air and saw a German plane shot down.

The Prime Minister was ashore three hours. He lunched with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of Allied ground forces, watched troops and supplies being landed, then steamed home through a battle fleet whose guns even then were blazing away at German positions on shore.

Eisenhower and his companions, beaming broadly, made a comprehensive tour of American sectors, including battered Biscany, wrested from the Germans only two days previously. They returned to Britain on an American destroyer.

Duck Gets Stuck
Eisenhower's party first inspected the eastern parts of the American sector, then sped in motor torpedo boats across a part of the bay of the Seine to visit American positions near the base of the Cherbourg peninsula. The tour began at 10:45 a. m.

"I think—gosh—I think it's fine!" gasped the driver of an amphibious duck, Corp. Grady Godfrey, La Grange, Ga., whom Eisenhower hailed to take his party ashore. When the duck got stuck on the beach Eisenhower suggested it would be a good idea to get some French soil on their shoes. They piled out in military cars the party swirled through yellow dust along poppy fields marked, "Achtung! Mines." French civilians waved greetings.

Bradley explained the day's operations to the party. Eisenhower inspected German dugouts and a big gun emplacement.

May Use Cameras On Atlantic Coast

New York, June 13—Effective at once, cameras may again be brought into and used in ocean beach areas. It was announced today by Lieutenant General George Gruent, commanding the Eastern Defense Command.

Lifting of the restriction is announced in Public Proclamation No. 7, which is being distributed to military and civilian agencies along the Atlantic Coast.

The ban on cameras was ordered on September 7, 1942, in Public Proclamation No. 2. It was pointed out by the Eastern Defense Command that although the military restriction against taking photographs at the seashore has been lifted, there are still Federal laws which prohibit photographing military and naval installations, equipment and places used for national defense purposes. Presidential Executive Order No. 8281, March 22, 1940, adopted pursuant to an Act of Congress passed January 12, 1938, defines certain military and naval installations and equipment which may not be photographed; and the Act of Congress passed June 25, 1942, prevents photographing places used for national defense purposes.

Postmasters Get Salary Increases

Washington, June 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt Monday signed a bill providing for increased pay for first, second and third class postmasters, inspectors and custodial employees.

Postmasters whose salaries range from $1,100 to $2,000 will get a 20 per cent increase; those getting $2,000 to $4,000 15 per cent increase; from $4,000 to $5,000 a 10 per cent increase; from $5,000 to $8,000 a 5 per cent increase. In addition to getting the raise the affected postmasters will be required to work 48 instead of 40 hours a week.

The inspectors and custodial workers will be paid straight time for overtime after 40 hours a week.

ALLIED PLANES POUND GERMANS IN WIDE AREA

By GLADWIN HILL
London, June 13 (AP)—Flying Fortresses, several hundred strong, again pounded German airbases behind the battle lines in France today as Marauders and Havocs struck at targets from the beachhead to far inland.

The German radio indicated Allied daylight raiders were striking into the Reich from bases in Britain and Italy following a night attack by more than 1,000 RAF bombers against German transport facilities and the synthetic oil manufacturing center of Geisenkirchen in the Ruhr.

Escorted by Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings, the Fortresses rained explosives on airbases at Evreux-Fauville and Dreux-Illeval. Clear weather made possible visual bombing. The Fortresses followed up yesterday's attack by up to 1,400 American heavy bombers against 16 airfields.

Blast Munich
Berlin said Italy-based bombers struck at Munich. The Marauders and Havocs attacked railroads, fuel dumps and other targets in close-up support of the beachhead forces.

In a series of broadcasts, the Berlin radio told of heavy air battles raging over the whole invasion area and said that Allied planes surged over the Alps had penetrated to Bavaria and Franconia. Other daylight raiders were reported in small numbers over western and northern Germany.

Following up yesterday's record assault by 1,400 American heavy bombers, the RAF included in its overnight targets bridges near Caen, center of some of the heaviest fighting in the Allied invasion drive, and Cologne in western Germany—an important railway hub.

The Luftwaffe, evidently trying to save face after its weak showing in Normandy, sent a few planes over southern and eastern England, and got one lone plane through to London for the first time since April 27.

Hit Transportation
The campaign against German transport, which reached a new crescendo yesterday, went on through the night virtually unabated at the hands of heavies, mediums, Mosquitoes and expanded eastward into The Lowlands.

The RAF bombed railroad centers at Arras, Amiens and Cambrai—key points on the route from Flanders to Normandy—and Potters, France, as well as bridges near Caen. The RAF lost 23 heavy bombers in overnight attacks on railroad centers in France and 17 more at Geisenkirchen and Cologne and in mine-laying.

Four of the medium bombers and fighter-bombers participating in the assaults on the German communications lines were shot down, while Allied night-fighters nailed 10 Germans. One of the German raiders over Britain was downed.

Previous incomplete reports of yesterday's operations said 53 Germans had been shot down in the air and 17 on the ground. Allied losses were placed at seven heavy bombers, one medium bomber and 31 fighters.

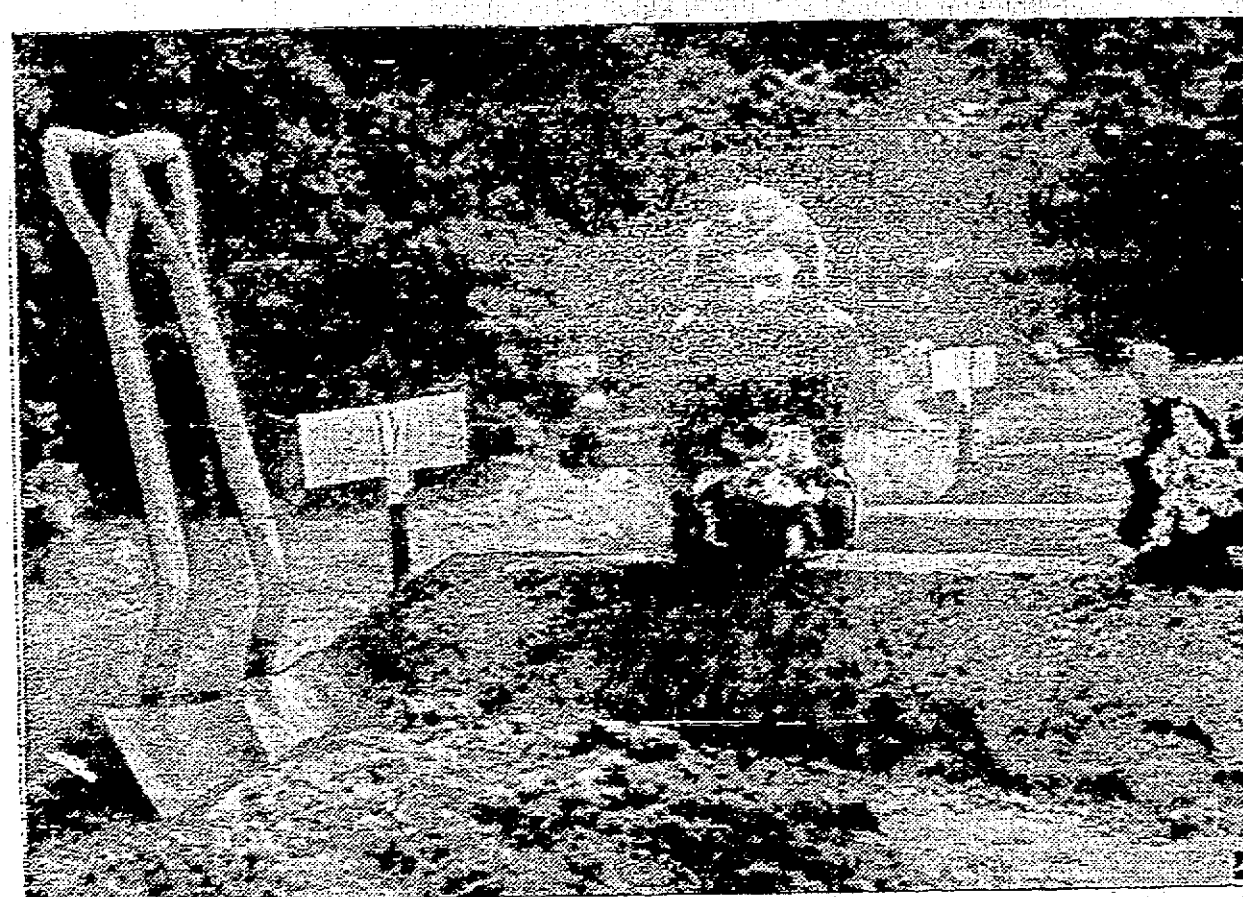

Start Grid Drills At Pitt Thursday

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—Pre-season football drills at the University of Pittsburgh will open Thursday. Football Coach Clark D. Shaughnessy said yesterday. Shaughnessy, who recently returned from a coaching school at Utah State Agricultural college, said he expected only a dozen of the 50 boys still in uniform at the conclusion of last season to be on hand for the delayed "spring" drills.

CONDEMNED MAN DIES

Martin Urges Vote Canvass Be Speedy

Harrisburg, June 13 (AP)—Accurate and speedy completion of Pennsylvania's soldier vote canvass, starting Flag Day, tomorrow, has been urged by Governor Martin after formally proclaiming July 7 as military ballot day, when names and addresses of voters in the armed forces will be turned over to election boards.

"May I ask members of households who have sons and daughters or persons within the family circle serving the country to be prepared to give the information which will be asked on the cards," said Martin in a statement. "The canvassers will ask the questions listed on the cards, and want no other information."

The state Defense Council, at the same time, said county defense chairmen have instructions to make daily progress reports to the council, which will direct the canvass.

5-YEAR SENTENCES

Philadelphia, June 13 (AP)—Five year prison sentences began today for Anthony Gailina, 28, of Emmaus, and Peter Kovalchick, 29, of Mary-D, for failure to report to conscientious objector camps. Both entered innocence pleas yesterday but submitted their cases to Federal Judge Benjamin C. Dawkins, who imposed sentence after adjudging them guilty.

BACK THE 5TH WAR LOAN TO THE LIMIT

REMEMBER the Sicilian invasion? Each mechanized division required 18,000 gallons of gasoline for every hour it was on the move.

Remember the invasion of Italy? The cost to reach the mainland from the time we began the attack in North Africa was 1,800 aircraft lost.

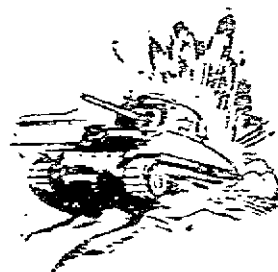

Even when we win, we lose vast stores of guns, planes, tanks and other equipment. For that is the price of victory. The Bonds you bought in the first four War Loan Drives are today's exploding bombs and shells! They can never be used again.

But today the battle is bigger than ever! And that is why you must do MORE than ever in the 5th War Loan.

Our fighting men are ready. They will go anywhere, anytime, anyhow—and bar nothing! For that is the American spirit. Back that spirit NOW . . . and back the 5th War Loan to the limit! It's for Invasion! It's for Victory!

JAPS LEARNING YANK STRATEGY ON FRENCH SOIL

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor

Reports of Japanese combat dead and prisoners in France appear to indicate a Nipponese determination to learn, regardless of cost, Allied methods of large scale amphibious landings.

Japan has neither the men nor the inclination to bulwark German armies, even if the Nazis wanted help.

However, while spending the first two war years as a Japanese prisoner, I was convinced my captors would make every possible effort to prepare against Allied strategy before their time came.

Data In Europe

The European invasion offered unparalleled opportunities for studying Allied amphibious tactics which might be duplicated in future thrusts against Japan's major possessions, perhaps in the Philippines or the China coast, where the range of operations will not be confined by the narrow battlegrounds of past Pacific campaigns.

The information Tokyo's war lords want cannot come fully from observers at command posts behind the lines or second hand testimony. From their viewpoint, it can be gathered only by fighters at the front.

If a few of these men live and return, their experiences and observations will be incorporated into a rigorous new training program for the Pacific's D-Day.

Sub Traffic Heavy

Individual Japanese repeatedly have demonstrated their willingness to undergo personal hardship and danger in a continual quest for information. Men chosen for the European mission would be only the most experienced and trustworthy, not from the lower ranks. It is likely many officers are among the fighters, regardless of their insignia.

Considerable submarine traffic still continues between Japan and Germany, and fighters could be transported this way.

MELIO BETTINA BEATS WALKER

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—Melio Bettina, the former Beacon, N. Y., cop now wearing a corporal's stripes in the Army, today was negotiating for a match next month with Curtis (Hatchet Man) Sheppard, the Pittsburgh negro fighter.

Bettina, 189, former light-heavyweight champion, made a step in that direction last night by subduing Buddy Walker, 194, of Columbus, Ohio, in the 10-round headliner on the outdoor boxing card at Forbes Field.

He had to come on in the late rounds to cop a split-decision verdict from Walker, who put up one of the best battles of his career.

The boy, Edward Smalley, was restored to his mother by city detectives after he asked a Pennsylvania Railroad detective how to get back to his Portage, Pa., home.

FIFTH ARMY SMASHES NEW NAZI DEFENSE

By SID FEDER
Rome, June 13 (AP)—The Germans north of Rome fought bitterly today along a new line of defenses from Lake Bolsena to the sea but Fifth Army troops smashed through and occupied nearly all the western shore of the lake and all but wiped out a strong point east of Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome.

Moving up both sides of Lake Bolsena, Allied forces on the western shore captured Valentano, junction of three highways some 55 miles north of Rome and pushed on, near Latera, four miles further north.

Northwest of the lake, South African forces moving toward Orvieto ran into a stiff battle in Bagno Regio.

On the Tyrrhenian coast American doughboys encountered a new series of dug-in defenses east of Orbetello and attacked through high ground directly toward lateral highway 74, which is about 90 road miles from Rome at that point. In a sharp and bloody engagement they captured 142 prisoners from the German 162nd Turcoman division and killed 100 more of the enemy.

Adriatic Advance

The advance was considerably more rapid on the Adriatic sector, where Eighth Army troops crossed the Saline river, some five miles north of captured Pescara, at several places.

These Allied forces took Popoli, on the Rome-Pescara road 10 miles north of Sulmona, where the advance had halted only long enough to take 20 prisoners.

South of Terni, in the center of the advance line, the enemy continued to put up a fight but some progress was made there, also.

The Eighth Army forces in the Tiber valley advanced to the southwest of Carsoli, reaching high ground across highway No. 5 and taking a number of villages.

Last night RAF bombers swept over Hungary and attacked the Almasfuzito oil refineries near Komarom, northwest of Budapest, starting large fires.

Yesterday tactical aircraft hammered transport and other targets in the battle area and further north to impede the German withdrawal. The Mediterranean air force flew about 1,100 sorties in all.

"SMEAR" MOVE IS ALLEGED BY SEN. O'DANIEL

By JACK BELL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

As the much heralded southern Democratic revolt took a court turn in Texas, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel of the Lone Star State emerged as the central figure of what he called a "smear" attempt by the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee.

What aroused O'Daniel was a committee decision to inquire into the financing of a proposed personal newspaper which promises to be strongly anti-Administration.

O'Daniel told a reporter it is no secret that more than $100,000 has been collected from prospective $5-a-year subscribers toward financing the paper, which he added would "disseminate the truth about our own government as I see it from the standpoint of a United States Senator in Washington."

"This looks like the smear squad going into action," said O'Daniel of the committee's plan. "I have been expecting it. If they want to start a smear campaign, let them go to it."

Predicts Defeat

O'Daniel, a Democrat who has fought many Administration proposals, was obviously pleased with the action of the Texas Democratic Executive committee in voting 37 to 6 yesterday against certifying on the primary ballot the names of Presidential electors chosen by a pro-Roosevelt group. This group had bolted after the regular convention had instructed the party's 23 electors not to support the Presidential nominee unless certain conditions were met by the Chicago nominating convention.

With this decision headed for a ruling by the Texas Supreme court, O'Daniel predicted defeat there of the pro-Roosevelt faction.

"They'll have to go to some other court than that in Texas," O'Daniel declared. "They'll have to go to a preme court of the United States," preme court of the United States.

Price Of Hard Coal Is Increased Again

Philadelphia, June 13 (AP)—The price of hard coal is up again for Philadelphia area consumers — less than three days after it went down again.

Regional OPA Director Daniel P. Woolley announced a "temporary" increase of 15 cents a ton to "relieve hardship" on Philadelphia and suburban dealers.

The increase was made retroactive to last Saturday midnight, when under a previous ruling, a price reduction averaging 14 cents a ton became effective.

STATE FLIER SAFE

New York, June 13 (AP)—A Norristown (Pa.) flyer, Sgt. Frederick S. Koffel, is listed as safe after the crash landing of a U. S. Liberator bomber in Western Serbia. A dispatch from Gen. Draja Mihailovic's headquarters said he and the nine other crewmen were at liberty to depart if their headquarters sent a plane for them. The dispatch added that Mihailovic's troops repulsed Bulgarians who sought to capture the airmen.

ALLIES HACKING AT JAPS ACROSS BROAD PACIFIC

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

American sea, air and ground fighters are tirelessly hacking away at Japanese fortresses barring the way to rescue of the Philippines and hard-beset China, Allied reports showed today.

Nimitz-MacArthur airmen, flying from land and carriers, continued their hand-in-glove assaults on the string of enemy-held islands stretching from Palau into the Marianas group flanking the Philippines on the east. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported the second straight day of attacks on Guam, Tinian, Saipan and other Marianas islands by a powerful carrier task force. The details were hidden in radio silence.

Pound Palau, Truk

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's airmen, taking off from newly-captured New Guinea bases, struck at Palau—530 miles from the Philippines—and Truk for the second straight day.

MacArthur's Allied forces also expanded their Bisk island holdings against stubborn enemy resistance and, to their rear, maintained steady attacks against Japanese trapped on islands stretching for 1,500 miles from Bougainville to Dutch New Guinea. Casualties in Dutch New Guinea, MacArthur announced, have accounted for 6,705 Japanese in recent weeks. Bombers kept up their daily schedule with an attack on Rabaul in New Britain.

Can You Picture PENNSYLVANIA without Transportation?

Public transportation—by highway and skyway, by railway and waterway — is one of the most vital industries of this State of ours. It represents far more than a vast array of terminals, equipment, repair shops and cold statistics about moving manpower — it's the link that joins Pennsylvania's cities and towns and rural communities to each other and to the rest of the Nation. In these tense times, it is the means of bringing boys home on furlough — of getting workers to the war plants — of keeping on the move all those people whose travel is essential to Victory.

An estimated 220,000 of our fellow-citizens of Pennsylvania are hard at work on the 41 railroads and the 5 airlines serving Pennsylvania, on boats, barges, huge fleets of trucks, and on the 268 inter-city bus lines which operate 2,469 buses along 18,523 miles of routes within our State borders. No small share of the credit for the efficiency of this excellent transportation system belongs to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the O.D.T.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State are conscious of the importance of our particular job — to the whole system of wartime transportation. Without the buses doing their share of the job other transportation would be burdened beyond capacity.

Many of our people today are serving in the Armed Forces — the rest of us are doing our level best to keep essential highway travel safe and efficient.

But we're also thinking about and planning for the post-war days, when pleasure travel will return and when such travel in new and finer Super-Coaches will be a greater pleasure than ever.

Back the Attack!

Allen Says Enemy Not Hurt By Bombs

New York, June 13 (AP)—Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent repatriated last week after 20 months in Italian and German prison camps, said today that despite Allied bombings German trains "were running on time x x x and just as regularly as they do from Grand Central Station."

In an interview from the Statue of Liberty, in connection with the Fifth War Loan drive and broadcast by the National Broadcasting company throughout the country, Allen said the official slogan of the Nazi party was "Freiheit und Brot" (Freedom and Bread).

"Today the Germans have neither," he said. "We still have both—and they're worth making every sacrifice for."

Allen said that with the launching of the invasion "the war has begun."

"But we have a long costly and bloody struggle to face before Germany is beaten," he added. "Few people realize how little Germany has actually been hurt—in spite of the damage done by Allied bombing."

Germans Get Reinforcements

German reinforcements also were rushing up the west coast of the peninsula towards Cherbourg to halt the American drive toward the opposite shore from the Carentan and Montebourg areas.

Very heavy tank battles continued in the British-Canadian sector on the Allied left flank.

It was estimated here that a fourth of the entire German western front strength of 60 divisions of more than 1,000,000 men have now been thrown against the American, British and Canadian forces.

The Auxiliary received official visitors at their session this morning and this afternoon was devoted to the exemplification of ritual. The election and installation of officers is set for Wednesday.

The Auxiliary at noon today reported a total registration of 212 delegates while the veteran registration stood at 240—both exceeding the totals for the 1943 convention.

Snails And Lizards

Monday's program wound up with the annual banquet at St. James Lutheran church with 175 veterans and their ladies attending. The grand ball in the Hotel Gettysburg annex followed.

The fun-making organizations of the veterans and the Auxiliary were busy today. This morning at the Hotel Gettysburg the Snails and Lizards held their annual breakfast. This evening at 6 o'clock the Lizards have scheduled a bean bake at the American Legion home to be followed by a grand convocation there.

This evening at 6 o'clock the annual banquet of the Black Cat club made up of past presidents of the department will be held at the Hotel Gettysburg. Wednesday morning the Auxiliary Department aides will breakfast together at the hotel before the morning business session.

Sessions Near Close

Veterans said at noon today that their convention will end formally this afternoon but the Auxiliary has Wednesday morning and afternoon meetings on the schedule.

P. J. Kammerer of Newville, Lincoln impersonator and frequent visitor to Gettysburg, is attending the convention as a member of the Harrisburg post of the USWV. He marched in the parade Sunday in his Lincolnian attire and whiskers and attends the convention session wearing the official badge of a delegate.

A Mansfield veteran stirred an uproar on the convention floor Monday afternoon when he suggested in a speech that the USWV had "only about 10 years ahead of it as a good, active organization."

Veterans shouted contradictions and yelled their derision. One veteran declared he was "good for 25 years yet" and a few minutes later 91-year-old Gurdon Rogers of Scranton was presented on the floor and given a round of applause. He is the oldest veteran at the convention.

Sues Couple For Daughter's Custody

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—Mrs. Bessie Rosenberg Cohen, Brooklyn, N. Y., brought a habeas corpus action in common pleas court yesterday against Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Sloan, Tarentum, Pa., asking for custody of her 14-year-old daughter.

The plaintiff stated she was formerly married to Samuel Rosenberg, and that in 1935 he took the child from her. She said the child is now living with the defendants, who are relatives.

A hearing was set for June 19.

Murder at CANDLEWOOD

Chapter 10
Jo was at the piano in the back parlor when they returned. She was making little lost fumbling sounds at the keyboard and Spring's eyes filled with tears. Terror filled her when she tried to put herself in Jo's place. If tragedy had snatched Dirk away from her—

Dirk's hand on her arm brought her back. "Spring," he whispered, taking her trench coat, "can you get back those letters you wrote to your Aunt Drusilla? The ones saying you couldn't marry Elvan? It wouldn't be good for the police to see those. They might misconstrue your meaning."

Spring stared at him. "I'll try," her voice came out muffled and uncertain.

"They had come in the rear entrance of the main hall, Spring closed the French doors in the face of the rain, and as she stood there, she saw Drusilla start up the broad stairs with a bundle of laundry."

"Spring waited under the stair arch until she heard her aunt go into her own room. A moment later she knocked on the door. She knocked the second time, more insistently."

"Aunt Dru!" she called. "It's Spring!"

"Oh, Spring, dear!" The door was thrown open after a sharp clicking of the lock. Spring looked at her. Why should she lock her bedroom door?

"Aunt Dru," she began, then suddenly changed her mind. The letters could wait. "Aunt Dru, what's the matter?"

Drusilla seemed to grow smaller, more colorless, until she was a little gray wraith standing there in the rain-darkened room. A single candle gleamed faintly on the dresser. It threw its light across Drusilla Hayden's face and Spring was startled at the digging fear in the pale blue eyes.

"Matter?" Drusilla repeated vaguely. "Nothing is the matter." Her gaze dropped away, settling into space.

Spring had the feeling of talking into air. "Aunt Dru!" she urged, "there is something the matter! You wouldn't have written those letters to me otherwise!"

Fright slid across Dru's face. "Oh," she whispered, "the letters! Oh, no. You misunderstood. There was nothing in them—" She began to cry suddenly, in shaking gusts of something like hysteria.

"You should never have come to Candlewood House," Drusilla whimpered. "This would never have happened if you had not come. Elvan—"

"Aunt Dru!" Spring cried sharply. "You don't think Dirk or I had anything to do with this?"

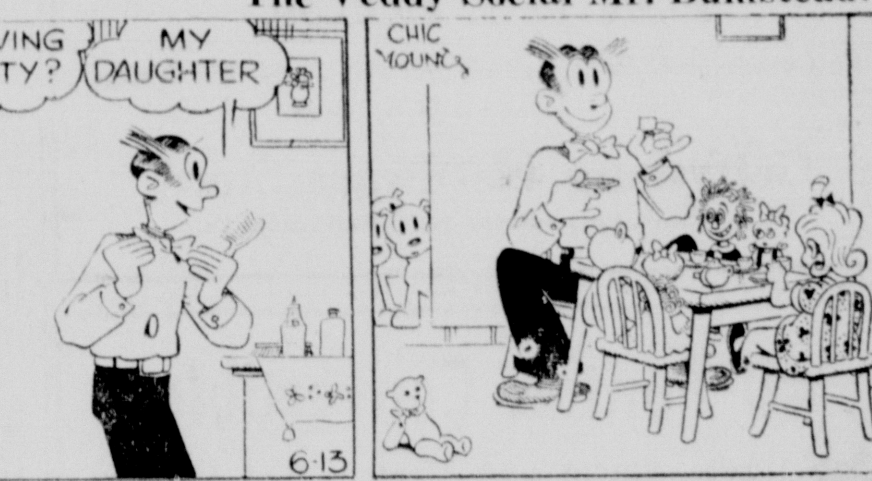

Drusilla shook her head, not speaking. She turned away to the windows that looked down on the drowned front lawn.

"Aunt Dru," Spring said fiercely. "Those letters I wrote you, about Dirk. Did you keep them?"

"Yes. They were a comfort to me. I missed you." Drusilla looked at Spring oddly. "Jo was never like you. She takes to her Great Aunt Adelaide."

SENATORS WIN OVER HAPLESS YANKS IN 11TH

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The World Champion New York Yankees got biffed on the nose again last night and nosedived into sixth place in the American league, the first time in years the Yanks have been in the second division this late in the season.

When Jake Powell singled in the 11th inning to give Washington a 4 to 3 victory it marked the Yankees' sixth straight defeat and their 12th setback in 14 games.

The regulation game had ended in a 1-1 deadlock and it appeared that the Yanks were in when they scored twice in the tenth. But the Senators tied it up again in their half and proceeded to tag Atley Donald for the winning run. Donald had relieved starter Joe Page who pitched the first nine innings. Johnny Niggeling went the distance for the Senators.

Ott Hits Pair

In another American league night game Cleveland nicked Detroit, 6 to 5, mainly on the strength of a five-run uprising in the fourth. Mickey Rocco and Oris Hockett drove in four of the five tallies in this frame, each delivering a two-run single.

The New York Giants spotted Brooklyn four runs in the first inning then came from behind to walk-off the Dodgers, 15 to 9, in the only National league game scheduled.

Manager Mel Ott and First Baseman Phil Weintraub each socked two homers for the winners. Altogether Weintraub drove in five runs, his best day since his 11 RBI the day the Giants took Brooklyn, 26-8, a month ago.

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns were tied, 1-1, after 2 1/2 innings when rain forced a postponement. The other clubs in both circuits had an open date.

PIRATES SELL GEE TO GIANTS

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—Six-foot-nine Johnny Gee, tallest player in organized baseball, was on his way to New York today after his release by the Pirates to the Giants for the waiver price of $7,500.

Acquired in 1940 from the Syracuse Nationals for cash and players representing the sum of $75,000, Gee pitched in only three games this year. Last season he won four and lost four. The big left-hander developed soreness in his shoulder during his first trip to training camp with the Pirates and had several recurrences of the trouble.

Release of Gee cuts the Pirate roster to 24 and trims the pitching staff to nine.

At the same time, the Pirates announced Nick Strincevich, right-handed pitcher, had been rejected for military service because of gastric ulcers.

A similar ailment was suspected in the case of Outfielder Vince DiMaggio, examined with Strincevich yesterday, but a definite ruling awaited the outcome of X-ray examinations.

Blue Rocks Drop To Third Place

(By The Associated Press)

The Wilmington Blue Rocks are back in the Interstate league's third place again, and it's the York White Roses, determined to bridge the gap between the first and second divisions, who put them there.

The Roses had plenty of help to be sure, from the Rocks themselves last night when Pitcher Barilars' last throw in the 10th inning stretched Sweeney's double into the run that gave York a 12 to 11 decision.

Before that practically everybody on both teams had hit at least once. York rapped 19 hits off four pitchers and Wilmington accounted for 15 off three York hurlers. Patton and Cwik struck out a total of 13 Blue Rocks batsmen.

Other teams in the circuit were idle last night.

Seeded Players Stick At Detroit

Detroit, June 13 (AP)—The seeded list was intact in the national clay court championships today except for one player who didn't show up for a first round match at the Detroit Tennis Club, and everything pointed to the pairings in Sunday's finals of Pauline Betz of Los Angeles against Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., and Francisco Segura, of Coral Gables, Fla., against Billy Talbot of Indianapolis.

Miss Betz, holder of two national lawn titles in addition to the clay crown she won here last year gets into action against Ruth Mihov of Los Angeles today. Miss Betz was idle yesterday as Miss Hart smashed out a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over bond Joanne Dunn of Des Moines, Iowa.

gaged in an activity in support of the national safety or interest."

The board chairman commented at the time that Litwhiler is "a top player" who is "doing a real job."

The levee system of the Mississippi is some 500 miles longer than the Great Wall of China.

Eric Moves To Top In Pony League Play

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Eric moved into first place in the Pony league standings last night, winning 9-2 over Wellsville as the Olean Oilers defeated the Lockport Cubs, 5-3.

Sol Mishkin, Wellsville manager, was put out of the game in the sixth for arguing a decision by Umpire Badger.

Although the Lockport Cubs rallied for three runs in the seventh frame, Olean, with two runs to its credit, fell on cub pitcher Anderson for three runs in the eighth to clinch the game.

Hornell shut out the Jamestown Falcons, 6-0, and Batavia defeated Bradford, 5-4, in a game that went 12 innings.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 13 (AP)—After a quick canvass, Dan Ferris had to split his vote between the sprints and the 400-meters when called upon to name the best event in the National AAU track meet next weekend. . . . The sprint field includes Charley Parker, the Texas kid who is so good that one local sprinter who has seen him doesn't think he can be beaten; Illinois' Claude Keystone (Buddy) Young, Ed Conwell, Barney Ewell and Herb Thompson.

The 400 will have defending Champion Cliff Bourland; Elmore Harris of Morgan State, a sensation in the NCAA meet, Johnny Fulton, Herb McKenley and John Yeager, the Louisiana State boy who his coach, Bernie Moore, says is capable of a 47-second quarter. . . . Best bet, in our opinion, is that Ross and Bob Hume won't run their tenth consecutive dead heat in the 1,500 meters.

UP AND ADAM

It seems that Adam Walsh, the old Notre Dame "Mule" who coaches the Bowdoin football team and fights fires in his spare time, was battling flames on the roof of a Brunswick, Maine, hotel, not long ago when some one hollered: "Phone call for you, Adam." . . . Walsh climbed down the ladder to receive a call from Notre Dame's president, asking him to return as assistant coach. . . . Adam, who coincidentally had received similar bids from Columbia, Dartmouth, Colgate and Bates that same day, merely declined with thanks and went back to his fire fighting.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Dodgers' Dave Walker has been voted the "Sports Father of the Year" by the National Father's Day Committee. Still the people's cherce. . . . Pat Harder's father says the ex-Wisconsin fullback will return to school for a degree before he signs a contract with the Chicago Cardinals, who drew him in the "draft." . . . Bing Conley, tough Maine middleweight, who fought Paul Berlerbach and Tiger Flowers twice in eight days back in 1927, is a character actor in Hollywood studios. He probably saw plenty of characters in the boxing business.

The Washington Redskins (as of last week) needed only $26,000 to reach their goal of $140,000 in season ticket sales for 1944.

Callahan Signed By Boston Red Sox

New Orleans, June 13 (AP)—Richard "Smiling Dick" Callahan, double no-hit pitcher of the Holy Cross College Prep school baseball team here, changed his mind about a college education yesterday and put his signature on a Boston Red Sox contract.

He will report to the Louisville Colonels of the American Association next Monday.

George Toporcer, head of the Boston farm system, who completed the deal with Callahan refused to announce the amount of cash involved, but said that it was "the biggest bonus ever paid to a high school player for his contract." Callahan's "buddies" said the bonus was $12,500.

GILMORE WINS 9TH FOR ALBANY

(By The Associated Press)

He had to work hard for it, but the Albany Senators' lanky Leonard Gilmore, No. 1 hurler of the Eastern league, today had recorded his ninth straight victory.

Gilmore, who won 13 and lost five last year, yielded nine hits and survived frequent threats last night to chalk up a 1-0 win over the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Hartford's Laurels continued in first place, a half-game ahead of Albany, by nosing out the Scranton Red Sox, 8-7. The Elmira Pioneers blanked the Binghamton Triplets, 5-0, and the Williamsport Grays shaded the Utica Blue Sox, 4-3, in 10 innings.

Manager Rip Collins continued his heavy slugging for Albany with two doubles, half the number of hits secured off Jack Karasul.

Catcher Bob Brady drove in the winning run for Hartford with a ninth inning triple, his second of the game. Warren Mueller was credited with his seventh win against one loss. The defeat was Scranton's 14th in a row.

Ted Malone, broadcasting from London, is to take over the Monday, Wednesday and Friday series of the BLU, which has been featuring the songs of Sally, beginning Wednesday night.

Litwhiler Seeks Navy Commission

St. Louis, June 13 (AP)—His Philadelphia draft board has deferred him but Danny Litwhiler, St. Louis Cardinals outfielder, has applied for a Navy commission and expects to take his physical examination late this week.

"I'm waiting to hear from the Navy any day," said Litwhiler, adding that the members of Philadelphia Board 54 "didn't think I was the right thing and that's what I'm doing."

Danny, a graduate of Bloomsburg (Pa.) State Teachers' college, was reclassified from 1-A to 2-A last week, and is one of two major leaguers deferred as "regularly en-

SENATORS WIN OVER HAPLESS YANKS IN 11TH

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The World Champion New York Yankees got biffed on the nose again last night and nosedived into sixth place in the American league, the first time in years the Yanks have been in the second division this late in the season.

When Jake Powell singled in the 11th inning to give Washington a 4 to 3 victory it marked the Yankees' sixth straight defeat and their 12th setback in 14 games.

The regulation game had ended in a 1-1 deadlock and it appeared that the Yanks were in when they scored twice in the tenth. But the Senators tied it up again in their half and proceeded to tag Atley Donald for the winning run. Donald had relieved starter Joe Page who pitched the first nine innings. Johnny Niggeling went the distance for the Senators.

Out Hits Pair
In another American league night game Cleveland nicked Detroit, 6 to 5, mainly on the strength of a five-run uprising in the fourth. Mickey Rocco and Oris Hockett drove in four of the five tallies in this frame, each delivering a two-run single.

The New York Giants spotted Brooklyn four runs in the first inning then came from behind to wallop the Dodgers, 15 to 9, in the only National league game scheduled. Manager Mel Ott and First Baseman Phil Weintraub each socked two homers for the winners. Altogether Weintraub drove in five runs, his best day since his 11 RBI the day the Giants took Brooklyn, 26-8, a month ago.

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns were tied, 1-1, after 2½ innings when rain forced a postponement. The other clubs in both circuits had an open date.

PIRATES SELL GEE TO GIANTS

Pittsburgh, June 13 (AP)—Six-foot-nine Johnny Gee, tallest player in organized baseball, was on his way to New York today after his release by the Pirates to the Giants for the waiver price of $7,500.

Acquired in 1940 from the Syracuse Nationals for cash and players representing the sum of $75,000, Gee pitched in only three games this year. Last season he won four and lost four. The big left-hander developed soreness in his shoulder during his first trip to training camp with the Pirates and had several recurrences of the trouble.

Release of Gee cuts the Pirate roster to 24 and trims the pitching staff to nine.

At the same time, the Pirates announced Nick Strincevich, right-handed pitcher, had been rejected for military service because of gastric ulcers.

A similar ailment was suspected in the case of Outfielder Vince DiMaggio, examined with Strincevich yesterday, but a definite ruling awaited the outcome of X-ray examinations.

Blue Rocks Drop To Third Place

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilmington Blue Rocks are back in the Interstate league's third place again, and it's the York White Roses, determined to bridge the gap between the first and second divisions, who put them there.

The Roses had plenty of help, to be sure, from the Rocks themselves last night when Pitcher Barillari's wild throw in the 10th inning greased Sweeney's double into the run that gave York a 12 to 11 decision.

Before that practically everybody on both teams had hit at least once. York rapped 19 hits off four pitchers, and Wilmington accounted for 15 off three York hurlers. Patton and Cwik struck out a total of 13 Blue Rock batsmen.

Other teams in the circuit were idle last night.

Seeded Players Stick At Detroit

Detroit, June 13 (AP)—The seeded list was intact in the national play court championships today except for one player who didn't show up for a first round match at the Detroit Tennis Club, and everything pointed to the pairings in Sunday's finals of Pauline Betz of Los Angeles against Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., and Francisco Segura, of Coral Gables, Fla., against Billy Talbert of Indianapolis.

Miss Betz, holder of two national lawn titles in addition to the clay crown she won here last year, gets into action against Ruth Mihlo of Los Angeles today. Miss Betz was idle yesterday as Miss Hart smashed out a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over blond Joanne Dunn of Des Moines, Iowa.

gaged in an activity in support of the national safety or interest."

The board chairman commented at the time that Litwhiler is "a top player" who is "doing a real job."

Erie Moves To Top In Pony League Play

Buffalo, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Erie moved into first place in the Pony league standings last night, winning 9-2 over Wellsville as the Olean Oilers defeated the Lockport cubs, 5-3.

Soi Mishkin, Wellsville manager, was put out of the game in the sixth for arguing a decision by Umpire Badger.

Although the Lockport cubs rallied for three runs in the seventh frame, Olean, with two runs to its credit, fell on cub pitcher Anderson for three runs in the eighth to clinch the game.

Hornell shut out the Jamestown Falcons, 6-0, and Batavia defeated Bradford, 5-4, in a game that went 12 innings.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 13 (AP)—After a quick canvass, Dan Ferris had to split his vote between the sprints and the 400-meters when called upon to name the best event in the National AAU track meet next weekend.

The sprint field includes Charley Parker, the Texas kid who is so good that one local sprinter who has seen him doesn't think he can be beaten. Illinois' Claude Keystone (Buddy) Young, Ed Conwell, Barney Ewell and Herb Thompson.

The 400 will have defending Champion Cliff Bourland; Elmore Harris of Morgan State, a sensation in the NCAA meet, Johnny Fulton, Herb McKenley and John Yeager, the Louisiana State boy who his coach, Bernie Moore, says is capable of a 47-second quarter.

Best bet, in our opinion, is that Ross and Bob Hume won't run their tenth consecutive dead heat in the 1,500 meters.

UP AND ADAM

It seems that Adam Walsh, the old Notre Dame "Mule" who coaches the Bowdoin football team and fights fires in his spare time, was battling flames on the roof of a Brunswick, Maine, hotel, not long ago when some one yelled: "Phone call for you, Adam."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Dodgers' Dixie Walker has been voted the "Sports Father of the Year" by the National Father's Day Committee. Still the people's cherce.

Pat Harder's father says the ex-Wisconsin fullback will return to school for a degree before he signs a contract with the Chicago Cardinals, who drew him in the "draft."

Bing Conley, tough Maine middleweight, who fought Paul Berlenbach and Tiger Flowers twice in eight days back in 1927, is a character actor in Hollywood studios. He probably saw plenty of characters in the boxing business.

The Washington Redskins (as of last week) needed only $26,000 to reach their goal of $140,000 in season ticket sales for 1944.

Callahan Signed By Boston Red Sox

New Orleans, June 13 (AP)—Richard "Smiling Dick" Callahan, double no-hit pitcher of the Holy Cross College Prep school baseball team here, changed his mind about a college education yesterday and put his signature on a Boston Red Sox contract.

He will report to the Louisville Colonels of the American Association next Monday.

George Toporek, head of the Boston farm system, who completed the deal with Callahan refused to announce the amount of cash involved, but said that it was "the biggest bonus ever paid to a high school player for his contract." Callahan's "buddies" said the bonus was $12,500.

RESERVED SEATS SOLD

New York, June 13 (AP)—Every reserved and box seat for the New York Giant-Brooklyn Dodger night game at the Polo Grounds Wednesday was sold by noon Monday. However, 40,000 unreserved seats will go on sale at 5 p. m. the day of the game.

GILMORE WINS 9TH FOR ALBANY

(By The Associated Press)
He had to work hard for it, but the Albany Senators' lanky Leonard Gilmore, No. 1 hurler of the Eastern league, today had recorded his ninth straight victory.

Gilmore, who won 13 and lost five last year, yielded nine hits and survived frequent threats last night to chalk up a 1-0 win over the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Hartford's Laurels continued in first place, a half-game ahead of Albany, by nosing out the Scranton Red Sox, 8-7. The Elmira Pioneers blanked the Binghamton Triplets, 5-0, and the Williamsport Grays shaded the Utica Blue Sox, 4-3, in 10 innings.

Manager Rip Collins continued his heavy slugging for Albany with two doubles, half the number of hits secured off Jack Karakul.

Catcher Bob Brady drove in the winning run for Hartford with a ninth inning triple, his second of the game. Warren Muelner was credited with his seventh win against one loss. The defeat was Scranton's 14th in a row.
